What About Community Center Site?

Is the Community Center land a "white elephant?"

Will Orinda's recreation needs be met by community usage of school plants, including projected grammar schools in Sleepy Hollow and Moraga Del Rey and a new high school in Moraga Valley, as well as Acalanes and the present two grammar schools here?

Should the Orinda Association attempt to dispose of the eight-acre Community Center land, for purchase of which the people raised $25,000 several years ago and on which heavy taxes and sewer assessments are being paid?

THESE ARE SOME of the questions which an Orinda Association special committee will try to answer.

The association board, meeting at Orinda School, voted Monday night for such a committee to be formed. President Kirk Miles said he would name committee members later. He said he would like to have William Penn Mott, Jr., and Mrs. Ned de Laveaga on the committee. Mott, superintendent of the Oakland Park Department and former member of the County Planning Committee, has long been active in Orinda planning. Mrs. de Laveaga is an Orinda Association director.

Decision to set up a committee followed Miles' report that some of the directors and Mott toured the Community Center property October 6.

"CONDITIONS HAVE CHANGED since the land was acquired," Miles said. "There will be new schools, including a new high school here in a few years. These will offer facilities to the people, in addition to those offered at Acalanes and the two present grammar schools. The Community Church is available for community use.

"Before we do anything, we should have full cognizance of what our facilities are. We have approximately eight acres of land which don't seem to be doing any particular good."

Jack Buchter suggested that "the whole approach to the Community Center problem should be very carefully considered." He pointed to the fact that new schools will be built and to the general practice of having all-purpose rooms and other features at schools provide community facilities for adults as well as children.

Buchter raised the question of whether formation of a recreation district should be contemplated. Stanley Allen recalled that four or five years ago an overflow crowd at a meeting on that question voiced an emphatic "No!", and he observed:

"THE MAIN THING we need is a building or buildings that can be used — we shouldn't worry about such things as tennis courts."

Vice-President Horace Breed suggested that a committee be formed "to try to solve the problem," and a motion to that effect was made by Buchter and seconded by Allen. The motion, approved unanimously, described the function of the committee as "re-evaluating Community Center needs" and specified that the size of the committee "be left to the discretion of the president."

No Point in Offering Opinion on Road Bonds Until Facts Known, Says Breed

Board Prepares For Association Annual Election

With six new directors to be chosen, plans for the Orinda Association's annual nomination and election of directors were discussed day night by the organization's board.

The election is scheduled to be held in December, following the annual membership drive in November, which will be conducted by the Civic Affairs Committee by means of thorough telephone solicitation, as it was last year.

Holdober directors, who will have another year to serve, are Jack Buchter, Stanley Allen and Kendric Morrish.

PRESIDENT KIRK MILES called attention to the section of the association's by-laws specifying that so long as there are less than 10 election precincts in the Orinda School District, there should be not less than one director from each precinct. There are nine precincts.

Also, Miles recalled that the by-laws were amended last year with the requirement that the nominating committee nominate a number of candidates greater than the number of vacancies. The Civic Affairs Committee serves as the nominating committee, and is to nominate candidates between November 1 and 15. Additional candidates can be nominated by five association members each.

"It almost loks to me," Miles commented, "as if the nominating committee will have to nominate people by precincts."

"Or," interjected Allen, "we might go back to the system of nominating just the number for vacancies."

CIVIC AFFAIRS Chairman Zach Montgomery, who was present for part of the board session, observed:

"I personally don't think the directors intended that representation should be on a precinct basis. I think it should be Orinda-wide.

However, no action was taken to change the by-laws.

Expression of opinion by the Orinda Association on a possible $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 county road bond issue would be pointless at this time, Vice-President Horace Breed told directors of the Orinda Association meeting Monday night.

"Until it's clear just what the county has in mind, what the money would be for and where it would be spent, I doubt if it would mean anything to get an expression," Breed said. "So far, it hasn't been explained in any detail."

Breed's statement was made as an informal report following a "feeler" request from the Contra Costa County Development Association regarding such a bond issue. The Development Association letter, similar to letters sent to various organizations throughout the county, asked if the Orinda Association thought the community would support a bond issue and if the Orinda Association itself would support it.

The letter had been referred to Breed, since he is the Orinda Association representative on the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation board.

"The Diablo Highway Improvement Federation is in the dark as much as anyone else as to where the money would go," Breed stated.

OTHER BUSINESS of the directors at the session at Orinda School included:

1. — Tabling for the time being the question of types of homes being built in Robert Platt's Inland Valley subdivision, regarding which protests have flared from time to time.

It was agreed that after landscaping and tree-planting are effected in Inland Valley, the homes may have an attractive appearance.

Mrs. Ned de Laveaga reported she had viewed the homes and that she did not consider them "too tractish"; she pointed out that bulldozing and terracing are now in progress, making the area unattractive.

2. — Report by President Kirk Miles that Ernest Spiegl is to sit in with the incorporation study group of the Lafayette Improvement Association, "merely from the point of view of keeping us informed."

3. — DECISION TO write to County Road Commissioner Joseph Barkley, asking him to investigate the possibility of extending the 35-mile speed limit zone on Moraga High way down to El Camino Moraga.

4. — Approval of a suggestion by Andy Blalock that the format of the Orinda News, official monthly publication of the association, be changed from five-column size to a four-column size, with the pages to be twice the length and width of the present pages. Blalock is editor.

Witches, Black Cats Ride High On Store Windows

Judges were figuratively scratching their heads this week in an effort to choose the winners in the Lions Club-sponsored store window Hallowe'en decorating contest for school children.

In the Crossroads area and in the Village, brightly colored witches, pumpkins, black cats and other traditional symbols gleamed from store windows, where fifth through eighth grade students from Orinda and Glorietta Schools had painted them with poster paint.

Judges, hoping the colors would withstand the rain, were headed by John Stoffel, and included Supervisor Jack Cummings, Bill Worden, Frank Olsen, Godfrey Bender, Dr. Harvey B. Lyon, Jr., and, representing the schools, Charmaine Barr, music teacher, and Frank Isola, physical education instructor.

Winners will be announced next week and will receive prizes at the Lions Club Hallowe'en party for kids Wednesday night at Orinda Theater.

Although regular admission prices will prevail at the theater, the movie program — featuring "The Good Humor Man" and "When the Redskins Rode" — will be followed by Hallowe'en high-jinks and awarding of prizes. The theater doors will be open at 6:30.

Schools Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff described the contest as truly democratic. The students themselves in each class chose the ones who decorated the windows, on the basis of drawings made in class.

'Curious Savage' Rehearsals On By Dramateurs

The Orinda Dramateurs are rehearsing on regular schedule as they prepare to present John Patrick's "The Curious Savage" in the Orinda School auditorium the last few days of November.

Under direction of Ed O'Brien, the rehearsals are being held on Monday night at the Community Church, Tuesday evening at Acalanes High School and Wednesday evenings in the Lila Murphy Dance Studio.

Playing the role of Florence is Mrs. Lucretia Allinson; Hannibal, Warren Jones; Fairy May, Alice Swenning; Mrs. Paddy, Wirtabel Harris; Titus, James Stanislawsky; Samuel, Keene Pettengill; Lily Belle, Hilda Probert; Ethel Savage, Mrs. Florence Stanislawsky; Miss Wilhelmina, Lois H. Brodrick, and Dr. Emmett, Lucius Kentfield.

The Dramateurs are most enthusiastic about the casting of these roles as "The Curious Savage" is considered one of the most ambitious vehicles in their library.

Dr. H. B. Lyon, Jr. Opens Orinda Office

Dr. H. B. Lyon, Jr., pediatrician who has had an office at 962 Dewing Avenue, Lafayette, for the past 15 months, has opened another office at 61 Moraga Highway, Orinda. While maintaining his Lafayette office, he plans to be at his Orinda office three half-days a week.

Opens New Law Offices

Law offices which he has opened in the Financial Center Building in Oakland are the new headquarters of Joseph R. Creighton of 36 Moraga Via.

EBMUD Leases Area to Standard For Parking Lot

Disclosure that East Bay Municipal Utility District is leasing the area just back of the Standard service station at the Crossroads, along the west side of Orinda Highway, and that Standard intends to develop a parking area there, was made at Monday night's meeting of the Orinda Association board.

President Kirk Miles reported that, following last week's Civic Affairs Committee decision to ask E. B. M. U. D. to place rock fill in that section, Civic Affairs Chairman Zach Montgomery had talked with John McFarland, E. B. M. U. D. general manager.

McFarland told Montgomery that negotiations were under way for leasing of the land to Standard and that, in view of the community desire to have that land developed for parking purposes, the negotiations would be speeded.

That was on Tuesday of last week. Last Friday McFarland informed Montgomery that the land had been leased to Standard, and that Standard planned to build a parking area just north of the service station.

At the October 15 Civic Affairs meeting, Supervisor Jack Cummings said that if the area were filled in, the county might be able to place a third lane there, along the west side of Orinda Highway, to facilitate movement of Oakland-bound traffic about to make a right turn onto Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

The section was used by the State Division of Highways as a dumping area for much of the earth from last December's big landslide three-fourths of a mile west of the Crossroads.

Hard Work Back Of That $5500 For Scout Drive!

That sum of over $5500 raised in the residential sections of Orinda for the recent annual Girl Scout-Boy Scout finance drive was the result of community cooperation and a lot of hard work by volunteer solicitors.

Results for the Moraga side were reported by area captains at a tea given by Mrs. Abe Doty, chairman. Present to hear the reports were Mrs. J. Wayland Barnette, general chiarman of the entire Diablo area drive, and Mrs. Ray Devin, Orinda district chairman.

Reporting a total of $2,357.35 collected in door-to-door solicitations were the following area captains: Mesdames George Fink (who assisted Mrs. Doty in organizing the Moraga side), Alex Morris, Howard Lane, Jack Carlson, Robert Brown, Ed Hicks, Ernest Fernsten, Greg Engelhart, R. F. Hopkins and F. E. Ready.

Captains working with Mrs. Ritchie Smith and Mrs. Beach Dean in collecting approximately $3143 on the Orinda side were Mesdames Thomas Cullen, Lloyd Root, Jr., N. S. Coates, Joseph Lang, H. D. Kisner, Stephen Jensen, Joseph Sheaff, Norman Ketsdever, John McFarland, William C. Corbett, R. H Phelps and Bruce Howard.

Business district and advanced gifts are still to be reported. Bob Nordquist was in charge of the business district solicitation. Also aiding was a committee consisting of Charlie Gibbs, Walter Boysen, Joseph Long ,Anthony Cianciarulo, Ted Harrer and John Stoffel.

Vic Beauchamp Jr. Killed in Korea

Official word was received by his parents last Friday that 22-year-old Victor Beauchamp, Jr., was killed in action in Korea October 4.

Young Beauchamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor P. Beauchamp of 54 Davis Road, had recently been engaged in patrol duty, as part of a group of 20 who went daily on scouting expeditions into enemy territory, according to his father.

"I don't know what he was doing at the time he was killed," his father said.

A telegram from the Department of Defense in Washington, D. C., informed the Beauchamps Friday that their son was killed in action and stated that a letter would follow.

The soldier, who reached his 22nd birthday in August, left for Korea last May 28, only a few weeks after his marriage May 4 to Joseph (Josie) Hammill at St. Clement's Episcopal Church in Berkeley.

He was inducted into the Army January 9 of this year, and received his basic training at Fort Ord.

His widow is now living in Berkeley, where she works. She is the daughter of Matthew Leon Hammill of Montana.

Beauchamp, Jr., attended Acalanes High School for three years, and graduated from the A-to-Zed School in Berkeley.

Dedicate Chapel; 730 Participate In Day's Events

With some 730 persons participating in the day's celebrations, Orinda Community Church's new chapel-classroom unit was formally dedicated last Sunday.

Rev. Harley H. Gill of San Francisco was guest speaker at the 11 a. m. worship hour, the main event of the day. Dr. Gill's sermon theme was "Sanctuaries of God."

The service was conducted by Rev. Fred R. Morrow.

Assisting in the impressive rites were Bishop George A. Miller of Lafayette Community Methodist Church, Rev. Godfrey Matthews, C. Ray Fowler and the church choir, led by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Popovich.

In addition to this main event, the dedication ceremonies included two Sunday school programs and an evening service conducted for the general public by members of the Pilgrim Fellowship.

Keys of the recently-completed structure were turned over by the builder, W. Vernon Bernard. Architect Scott Haymond, Leo Alexander, chairman of the building committee, and Stanley M. Hudd, board chairman, participated in the morning program.

After the main service, coffee was served in Fellowship Hall.

The chapel and six finished classrooms are in the new building, third of a group of four comprising the total building plan. On the lower floor are two large unfinished areas, which will be used for recreation until they are completed as classrooms.

U. S. Tax Lien Filed vs. Rheems

The Federal Government this week filed a tax lien for $22,156.79 against D. L. and Alice G. Rheem with Contra Costa County Recorder Ralph Cunningham. The lien was for 1948 taxes plus statutory interest dating from February 15, 1951.

Schedule Special Shows for Children

Schedule for the year's program of children's entertainment sponsored by the Orinda Mothers Club was announced yesterday by Jean Henderson, chairman of the children's programs.

On November 10, the Children's Theater class of Mills College will present a puppet show, "Puss in Boots," followed by two movie shorts for an hour-long program intended primarily for younger children. One showing will be at 10:30 a. m., the other at 1:30 p. m., at the Orinda School auditorium.

On December 1 and 8 the Orinda Community Church will present the story of "Hansel and Gretel," with story and music for all youngsters.

On February 23, the Orinda Mothers Club is sponsoring a performance of "The Wizard of Oz," at Acalanes High School auditorium. The Berkeley High School group of the East Bay Children's Theater will perform the play.

School Tax Limit Of $1.75 OK'd by Association Board

Orinda Association backing of the proposed $1.75 Orinda School District tax limit became doubly strong Monday night when the Board of Directors unanimously endorsed the proposal.

Board action, at the monthly meeting at Orinda Grammar School ollowed by one week a similar move by the Civic Affairs Committee and a request by that group that the board give its support.

DURING DISCUSSION, Vice-President Horace Breed asked why a 25-cent increase in the tax limit is necessary.

Director Jack Buchter, who is architect for the school board, explained that student enrollment increases and rises in construction costs make such a tax limit hike necessary in order to be able to go ahead with the district's expansion program.

THE VOTERS WILL decide December 4 on whether a $1.75 tax limit shall become effective for seven years starting July 1, 1952, with expiration of the present $1.50 tax limit.

"Have you any idea of the cost of building as compared to five years ago?" Breed asked Buchter.

"It's up about 150 per cent, I'd say," Buchter replied.

BUCHTER SAID THAT efforts are being made to cut costs for the projected Sleepy Hollow School at the west end of Washington Lane. Radiant heating is being eliminated, he said, and lighting fixtures may be made simpler.

"Then, too, we're considering substituting for the usual type of present-day schoolhouse a type more resembling a residence, with classrooms back-to-back, maple floors and heavy overhead wooden beams, overhanging at the sides of the building," he added.

"EVEN WITH SUCH economies, classroom construction cost will probably run about $18 a square foot; without them, the cost might be around $22 a square foot."

Motion to endorse the tax limit proposal was made by Stanley Allen and seconded by Mrs. Ned de Laveaga.

Is Supt. Sheaff An Optimist? . . .

Admitting pessimistically that he may be something of an optimist, Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff this week expressed hope that many Orindans will attend the November 5 school board meeting.

"It's important for people to attend the meeting so that they can learn just why we believe a $1.75 tax limit is necessary," he said. "If they don't understand all the reasons for the request, how can they vote intelligently on it December 4?

"In the past, attendance has been very poor at school board and other meetings where important school issues are discussed. But I hope that this time the people of Orinda will be aware enough of the serious situation to come to the November 5 board meeting for full information."

The board session is set for Orinda School at 8 p. m.

And Let's Talk About Some Rain

And the rains came — 1.38 inches during the weather week of October 18 through 24, according to Orinda's official weather observer. Which steals the limelight, and dims to unimportance the usual maximum and minimum temperatures of weather news.

Especially to those Orindans who are coping with inelegant slipping and sliding on wheels or on foot down churning lanes of liquid mud, called "streets" on Orinda maps. Well, we have to have something to grouse about, don't we?

If you really want to know what the temperature score was, there was a high of 79 degrees October 19 with a low of 37 degrees last Sunday night.

GAY AND BARGAINY might be an apt way to describe the Annual Bazaar of the Orinda Community Church Women's Guild, which will be held Thursday. These pictures show Guild members demonstrating some of the objects which will be offered for entetrtainment or for sale. Above, manipulating marioinettes that are sure to delight youngsters, are, left to right, Mesdames E. Rahmeyer, Fred Twining, Charles Kirsten and Peter Veitch. Moraga Meadows Told of School Tax Needs, Elects New Officers

Explanation of the need for a $1.75 tax limit for the Orinda Union School District shared the spotlight with election of officers at the Moraga Meadows Association's annual meeting October 18 at Orinda Grammar School auditorium.

Jack Fraser of the school board presented the picture of school district problems, pointing to the requested $1.75 tax limit for a seven-year period beginning July 1, 1952, as urgent necessity in the struggle to keep educational facilities adequate for the ever-increasing enrollment.

Election on the tax limit proposal is set for December 4.

Association officers chosen for the 1951-52 term are:

President Tevis Thompson, Vice-President Ken Brown, Secretary Mrs. Doris Chapman, Treasurer Fred Evans (reelected), and Directors Tom Mika, Clint Hallsted, Bob Bettencourt and Jack Cunningham.

1950-51 officers and directors were thanked by Tom Mika, outgoing president, for their cooperation and hard work. Reports of various committees were given. Following the election of officers, refreshments were served.

"All members and eligible members in the Moraga Meadows area are urged to give full-hearted cooperation to each and every project forthcoming in this new year," Tevis Thompson, the new president, stressed.

"This is your association, for your benefit and protection, and to encourage, through social activities, a very friendly community."

It is urged that all new Orinda residents register as soon as possible. The $100 a plate dinner at the Diablo Country Club has been changed to Monday night, November 5 due to the fact that Senator Knowland, the principal speaker, must remain in Washington until that time.

Garden Club Will Hear E. Wertheim

Split Vote Asks One-Way Road Near Crossroads

By a vote of 5 to 2, the Orinda Association Board of Directors decided Monday night to ask the county to establish the road back of the Chevron serbice station and Casa Orinda as a one-way road, with traffic to move southwest, to Moraga Highway.

The narrow alley, described by Stanley Allen as county property, runs from Davis Road, at a point a short distance from Mt. Diablo Boulevard, to Moraga Highway, and does not even have a name.

With President Kirk Miles and Director Joseph D. De Costa dissenting, the board voted for a letter to be written to the County Board of Supervisors, urging that, in the interests of safety, the one-way regulation be enacted.

The motion was made by Vice-President Horace Breed and included an amendment, offered by Mrs. Ned de Laveaga, that the county be asked to paint curb markers for seven or eight feet along Moraga Highway, on each side of the one-way egress.

REASON GIVEN by Miles for opposing the motion was that he believed the board should first hear from Paul Vashell, who was reported as being against the move for a one-way setup. The road goes past Vashell's electrical contracting establishment.

De Costa, pointing out that the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, where the move originated, had not taken definite action, suggested that the matter be referred to the county for further study.

However, Breed declared: "It seems to me that we have all the light on the subject that's going to be shed. Vashell isn't going to change his mind; we know how he feels, and we should give that due consideration.

"BUT THE SAFETY problem for the welfare of the community is paramount. There's a real hazard which we should try to solve as quickly as possible."

Voting for the motion were Breed, Mrs. de Laveaga, Allen, Norman Coates and Jack Buchter. Directors Kendric Morrish and Mrs. George Vurek were absent.

Background of the dispute was described by Allen, who explained that Ramsay Underwood, Chamber of Commerce president, had asked that the problem be considered by the Orinda Association, since the association is a more representative body than the chamber and since chamber developments had involved mainly those directly affected.

"THE MATTER CAME UP at a Chamber of Commerce meeting a few weeks ago," Allen said. "The alley is quite narrow — some 20 feet — and there is considerable congestion.

"It was decided that a one-way street would be the best answer. The problem had previously been discussed with Supervisor Jack Cummings, and he thought this would be a good solution.

"But Vashell did not accept the idea and developed quite a bit of opposition."

ALLEN, WHO SAID he would have no objection to the association board's hearing Vashell before taking any action, described Vashell's objections as being based on apprehension that a one-way regulation would interfere with his business.

"I agree that something should be done," Miles said, "but since no subcommittee has studied the matter and we haven't heard the other side, I think we'd be rather hasty in acting on it tonight."

Saxe Discusses Color in Garden

"Color in the Garden" was discussed Wednesday night by Robert Saxe when Orinda Lions Club entertained at a "Ladies' Night" dinner and program at Orinda Willows.

Saxe, a member of the Post Office Department in San Francisco, is an official of the American Horticultural Society in San Francisco and president of the San Francisco Businessmen's Garden Club.

Stewart Wade introduced the speaker. President Jerry McKinley presided over the evening festivities.

Queen Candidate In Dramateur Play

Lois Hunter Brodrick is playing triple roles in her life, each of them a very active one.

Her first as Mrs. Richard Brodrick, wife of a young doctor and mother of two healthy young daughters, is a busy one. Her second as the Orinda Sun's candidate for Homemaking Queen at Broadway-Walnut Creek brings Lois' home economics ability into the foreground, as well as her brunette good looks.

Her third role in life at present is that of Miss Wilhelmina, nurse in a rest home, in "The Curious Savage," the play under rehearsal by the Orinda Dramateurs.

Lois was in her first Dramateur play last spring when she did the role of secretary in "Light up the Sky."

Amateur dramatics are not a new thing to Lois, however, as she was a member of the Thespian group at her Alma Mater, Penn State, and later joined the Coronado Players, who have done some interesting work in Southern California.

About Our Happy Country Folk

By EDITH BOLMAN

KATHLEEN NORRIS is a woman who thinks and acts — obviously. But are you? The theme of her talk at the October 18 meeting of the Republican Women's Club of Orinda at Orinda Community Church was — if you don't get busy now, you have no cause for complaint later. Convince people that they must get out and vote. Talk between now and next election time or do not talk at all for the following four years!

Inasmuch as the audience consisted mainly of women, we can hardly wait to see what the desults are going to be. Anyway, women were interested in what she had to say, women are doers, and we are not anticipating any unaccustomed silence after next November.

After her inspiring and factual message she was thanked by Mrs. Thomas St. Hill, club president, and Mrs. Kendric Morrish, and then a large group went to the Orinda Country Club where, while munchin' luncheon, they digested the information.

ALSO AT THE COUNTRY CLUB recently, Mrs. Ira Wilkin entertained at luncheon for a group of local and University of California women.

Allan Bottomley had a party the other night of some 66 of his Acalanes contemporaries. No birthday, no holiday, no commemoration of anything — but a party just for the heck of it!

Sounded good, though, what with the patio lighted with Hawaiian torches, dancing, games and good food. Mother and Father Bottomley and their trusted friends, the Herbert Atkinsons, loaned sponsorship to the affair by holding a bridge game in the back room.

A VERY INTERESTING visitor to Orinda is Mrs. W. H. Young, founder and owner of the Young Art Institute and Galleries in Chicago, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Carlson.

Carolyn Demeter also had a party with several couples from Acalanes who entertained themselves with dancing, ping-pong and — guess what — food. The chaperones' bridge game this time was in the front room and was liberally punctuated by birthdays — the Robert Raskobs partnered the game and after the teen-agers had wound up their conveyances and gone home, the senior foursome was celebrating Mr. R's birthday when the phone rang to inform the Demeters that the young had made too much noise, so the police had been informed.

Just as the daylights were being frightened right smack out of everybody, the phoner confessed to be neighbors, the William Vaughns, who were also celebrating a birthday and wanted to combine forces. General gaiety followed that collaboration of individuals, and we expect to hear no more about what the young are up to.

BROWNIE TROOP 86, fourth grade Orinda Union Grammar School, under the gentle guidance and persuasive pushing of three strong-arm mothers, took a little trip recently to the Snow Museum in Oakland. If you are the type who can't distinguishr between a panther and a billy goat (when stuffed), just ask any one of them and you will be set right, promptly.

We always enjoy writing about the good-deed girls. This time it is the Junior League, and their plans for raising money for their joint project with the Art League and the Children's Theater. They are all three working toward a Junior Center of Arts in Mosswood Park, to be made up of a Theater, Art Gallery and Junior Museum.

The forthcoming event will be Junior League Day at the Races Friday, November 9, and you may call any of the following Orinda members for Turf Club tickets:

Mesdames G. Willard Miller, Jr., Clinton C. DeWitt, James Van Sicklin, Eugene Shurtleff, Robert Spott, William Allen, Bruce Anderson, Walton Dowker, Paul Demeter, James Felchlin, John Harrison, Bruce Howard, Steven Jensen, Ernest Kahl, Douglas Kelly, Donald Richards, David Lewis, Charles Lohse, Hugh Lowther, Gordon Martin, Pierce Milton, Alfred Otto, Thomas Rodgers, James Turner, Milton Vail, Richard Weeks, III, Warren Yager and William Brock.

MRS. EDWARD ROGERS and Mrs. Charles Camp put on their best bonnets recently and went to the tea given by Mrs. Robert Gordon Sproul for the University section Club.

And from what we gathered after several pointed questions, if you are a member of the University Section Club you are automatically entitled to a section of just about anything you can think of!

There are sections which investigate and do something about flower arrangements, birds, sketching, French, Spanish, dancing, bridge and several others, no doubt, because any group which has that many interests would undoubtedly have a few more.

NANCY CAMP — remember? — our local movie starlet — has returned from a trip to Hollywood, where she had a bit part in Natalie Kalmus' newest technicolor picture. The name of the picture has not been chosen yet but if you go to all-colored movies from now on, you can't miss.

Not to be outdone, Mother Camp is at it, too. Town and Gown (a Berkeley dramatic group) is staging something, so several in the cast are doing their rehearsing at a conveniently timed house party at Napa at the home of Dr. Boynton Kaiser.

Fellowship Holds Planning Retreat

Ten young folks representing the Pilgrim Fellowship of Orinda Community Church gathered with a dozen others from the Pilgrim Congregational Church of Oakland for a "planning retreat" at La Selva Beach, Santa Cruz, October 13 and 14. They held three meetings in the Community Center planning their programs of worship, mission, social action, and recreation.

The boys slept outside Saturday night, and the girls bunked in two homes nearby. Between meetings they all had fun swimming, playing football, and dancing. The Orindans were Catherine Monroe, Judy Hall, Tania Hudd, Roberta Krotz, Mary Alice Johns, Sue Small, Bob Diehl, Carl Drews, David Barrows, David Hupp and their leader, Ray Fowler.

'Malady' of St. Stephen Women—Should It Be Called Rummagitis?

By HARRIET A. HUNTER
Chairman, Rummage Sale Committee, St. Stephen's

It is rumored that a strange malady has hit the women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Orinda

Meet any member of the Women's Auxiliary casually, anywhere, and the symptoms of the affliction immediately appear. An appraising gleam comes into the eye as it goes over your costume — and you just know they are figuring how long you've had it, how it can be gotten off your back and into the Rummage Sale goods.

(Yes, the Women's Auxiliary will conduct a Rummage Sale November 6 at Norway Hall, Oakland.)

Next, the "appraiser" probably wonders, "How much will it bring? Will it have a customer? Rapid mental calculation goes on something like this: "Let me see now — three times 100 — plus four times three — Hum -- well! . . ."

It is said there is no treatment for Rummage Malady. Just submit willingly; the disease runs it course, and everyone can consider himself (or herself) recovered after November 6, when Auxiliary members trip gayly home from Norway Hall, the rummage sold, the money in the pocket — and visions ahead of a wonderful organ in the new church.

By the way, a truck is needed to transport furniture offered for the Rummage Sale. If you can furnish use of such a truck, or have any bright ideas about it, just phone Mrs. H. S. Doane at Orinda 2022.

Hansel and Gretel Operetta Planned

"Hansel and Gretel," operetta sponsored by the Clipper Club and the Shipmates, will be given by the Junior Choir of the Orinda Community Church December 1, 8 p.m., and again on December 8 at 2:30 in the Orinda School auditorium.

The children are being trained by Mrs. Dan Popovich and Mrs. Kirk Miles. Tickets, at 75 cents each, will soon be on sale.

The performances are for the benefit of the fund to add more pipes to the church organ.

Miss Hockenbeamer One of Bridesmaids

Alexandra Hockenbeamer was one of the bridesmaids at the early October marriage of Leota Grace Moulton to Dr. Thomas A. Curtis in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Seymour Moulton.

Delphians Stress Need for Nurseries

Necessity for qualified day nurseries in every area where mothers must work was emphasized at the Chi Lambda chapter meeting of Delphian Society last week at Orinda Community Church, under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. C. Witter.

Discussing problems of the working woman, Mrs. Gordon D. Pray said, "We mothers who are fortunate enough to care for our children in our own homes could well serve the community in contributing a few hours a week to maintain adequate all-day nursery care for children of women who are forced to work.

"We thereby would not only enrich our own lives and ease the mind of the working mother, but also perhaps diminish chances for delinquency among children who would otherwise be neglected."

Clipper Club Meets Tonight

The Clipper Club meets tonight at the home of the A. C. Flenners, 52 Acacia Drive.

World Federalism will be explained to the group by Mr. Alexander, head of the World Federalist movement in Oakland.

Drive very carefully—the life you save may be your own.

Guests Convinced Orinda's a Dandy Location for Home

A cocktail and buffet-supper party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman at 5 Meadow Park Court served the double purpose of providing social enjoyment for 45 guests and convincing most of the guests that Orinda is a good place in which to live.

Most of those present were from San Francisco and Marin County, and many were former Marin County neighbors of the Hoffmans, and of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman's sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben McQuillen of 140 Overhill Road and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hopper of 10 Hillcrest Drive.

The Hoffmans moved here from Oakland several weeks ago. The McQuillens and the Hoppers came here, also from Oakland, last February.

Santa Maria Moms, Dads Plan Cocktail Party November 11

The Santa Maria Mothers and Dads Club of Orinda is planning a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gillivan, 160 Camino Don Miguel, on Sunday afternoon, November 11.

Mr. and Mrs. William Straus, general chairmen of the affair, and their committee members are working to make the afternoon a delightful social event.

Since reservations are limited, call either Mrs. Robert Boyle, Orinda 2316, or Mrs. Francis Wyatt, Orinda 8504, not later that Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Schmitz Leaves on Lurline

Mrs. Fred W. Schmitz, 302 Overhill Road, left on the Lurline October 13 for a three weeks trip to the Hawaiian Islands. While she is there on the Imperial Shrine tour, she will stay at the Royal Hawaiian hotel and make a circle tour of the other islands in the Hawaiian group.

Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ayres, left last Saturday for a two weeks flying trip to the East. Among points of interest on their flight will be Florida, New York, Philadelphia, and St. Louis.

Bargains, Food, Marionettes and More At Women's Guild Big Bazaar Thursday

By CARRIE L. BROWN

The big annual project of the Women's Guild of the Orinda Community Church is its Bazaar, Tea and Children's Fair. This year's event, on Thursday, will include a cafeteria dinner.

From the opening at 1 p.m. to the close at 7:30, it will provide fun, sociability, interest and better-than-ever hand-made bargains.

The church hall will be the setting for the affair.

Tables will be ready at 1 o'clock, displaying reasonably priced aprons, pot holders, stenciled tea towels, table mats, lunch sets and knitted baby articles. Felt puppets will be there—the ever popular Minnie Mouse, Pluto the dog, Cocky the rooster and the pink elephant.

There will be a table of home-cooked foods, cookies, pies, cakes, candy, beans and salads.

A NEW FEATURE will be a plant table, with African violets the main attraction. Another new feature will be an assortment of very attractive and priced-just-right men's neckties.

There will also be Christmas cards, wrappings and boxes of greeting cards for Christmas and all occasions for use by adults or children.

On the White Elephant table may be found quite desirable articles.

The social atmosphere of the Bazaar will be enhanced by the serving of tea from 2 to 4 p.m.

THE CHILDREN'S FAIR will keep the children amused and entertained from 3 until the supper hour, 5:30. Here they can see two marionette shows, take part in contest games with prizes of balloons and other toys, treat themselves with punch and cookies and buy inexpensive Christmas gifts for others.

Of interest to all will be the fine cafeteria dinner served from 5:30 to 7:30. It will consist of baked ham, scalloped potatoes, hot vegetable, salad, rolls, coffee or tea, and pies. Hot wienies instead of ham can be chosen. Adult-size servings will cost $1.50, and children's half-sizes, 75 cents.

Child care will be provided at a cost of only 25 cents per child for the afternoon.

NEWCOMERS TO ORINDA will find for sale at 50 cents each the booklet "Orinda Roads," which gives the history of Orinda, an alphabetical list of its Spanish-named roads with their translated meanings, and two picture-illustrated maps showing all of old Orinda and most of the new sections in Sleepy Hollow and the Moraga-Glorietta neighborhoods.

The compiling work, art and photography were all contributed free, so that is why this useful booklet can be sold for only 50 cents. No maps on the market have such clearly defined roads.

Behavior Patterns of 3, 4-Year-Olds Subject at Nursery School Meeting

"What to expect in the behavior and mental patterns of the three and four year-olds" was the subject Evelyn Peters discussed at the season's first meeting of the Orinda Nursery School Association on October 10 at the Orinda Community Church.

Miss Peters is head teacher of the nursery school in the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of California and has had much additional training to render her well-qualified to speak before this group of young mothers.

"SPEECH REALLY comes into its own at the age of three," Miss Peters pointed out. "The child will repeat delicious words over and over. If he happens upon a 'bad' word ('stinkpot' being a favorite of the four-year-olds), don't tell him to never use that word again. Rather, say, 'That is a funny word, but I know an even funnier word.' And then introduce a word such as 'Jiminy Crickets'.

"At the age of three, a child is apt to become fearful, as this is the time his power of imagination is developing. Don't make fun of his fears; he's not attempting to lie. Rather, say, 'No, I really don't think there are any wild animals over there. We'll go take a look!' "

MISS PETERS TOLD OF some other characteristics common with the three-year-old. He is gaining in power and self-confidence. He teases, whines and doddles. If given the chance, he will be very cooperative and help around the house as this gives him a sense of belonging to the family, which he likes. He is very sensitive to family quarrels. He has no idea of time and does not like to be hurried.

"The four-year-old," continued Miss Peters, "is one of endless energy. He lives each day as if it were the only, and he rushes headlong into things. And things ar very funny. He gives way to his emotions very easily; and when he wants to be babied, baby him. This is the age of boasting, and he loves to say, 'My car is better than yours.' Too, he is very dramatic. One moment he is a father; the next, a mother. Then he is going to a wedding; a few moments later, to a funeral. He loves stories, particularly those about his own life with his name injected. Music and dancing also rate high.

"AT FOUR IT IS a good idea to let the child know that everyone is different and that other families do things in other ways — this being perfectly all right. Birth, death, religion and sex are very interesting to the four-year-old; and he will ask the same question many times. Give him an answer that will satisfy him, but no more. It's best to figure out your answers to these questions before they arise; for when the questions are asked, there isn't time to consult a book — and you certainly cannot walk away.

"Talking constantly, whether anyone is about or not, is common to the four-year-old. He likes numbers and can rattle them off; but if you ask for five blocks, he is quite apt to give you 10. He is very show-offy at this time, and he ambies a lot."

During the course of her talk, Miss Peters made many suggestions that would aid in the handling of a young child:

1. — Respect his rights.

2. — Form a habit of listening to him, for it is through listening to him that one is able to learn what he is really thinking about.

3. — It is a good idea to plan what is going to come next with a child.

4. — Birthday parties do not have to be elaborate, just so long as the child realizes it is his day.

5. — Remember that attitudes are caught, not taught.

6. — Be very consistent with your child.

7. — Give your child unconditional love.

8. — Try to save your child from embarrassment.

9. — Warn him about unpleasant occurrences, if possible, before they occur.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served. Mrs. Clinton DeWitt was hostess for the evening, with the Mesdames Willard Miller, James Van Sicklin, C. W. Brock and Charles Lohse assisting her.

Golf Contest Great Success – No Casualties!

By PATRICIA JELTON

The invitational two-ball foursome October 14 was a huge success. It was a gorgeous day, and there wasn't even a single casualty among the husbands who condescended to play golf with their own wives.

We played with the Robert Bolmans — you know, Edie writes the column "Happy Country Folk" — and almost fell off the Christmas tree when we got the results. We're too modest to tell you, but take a good look at the following winners.

In Class A were the Bob Johnsons, who walked off with all honors with an 81 gross. Ryll Elder and Ray Smith had a net of 69½, Mrs. P. J. Van Nostrand and L. Mitchell 72, Alta and Art Somers 72½, Liz Folliard and Jack Eliot 72½, and Mrs. H. Hamilton and A. B. Tanner 73.

In Class B Mr. and Mrs. O. P. O'Kane had a 70½, Jerry McGlynn and Gody Egli 71½, the G. D. McElhinneys 72, the D. C. Elders 74½, the L. D. Baums 75 and the F. V. Holmes 75.

In Class C the Bob Bolmans with 70½, Mrs. George Thomas and W. Emigh 72, Jim and Peg North 73½, the Vad Jeltons 74, and Mrs. P. Sears and George Thomas 76½.

A REALLY FUN DINNER and dancing party following, a sort of family affair, many of the participants going home for junior members who appeared in their sartorial best.

The Norths sitting with the Stu Davis', both young sons giving their mas a whirl on the floor. The John MacFarlands with the whole family, even the smallest, wanting a whirl on the dance floor.

Sitting with us were the Frank Fees, Marion lovely in purple cocktail frock, with their guests, the Ed Youngs of Piedmont.

At a table with the Art Somers were the James Sharps, Ellie so feminine in white cotton lace with stole.

Others glimpsed were the Bud Ongs, Bill Vaughans, Perry Thomas' and Carlton Ranks with guests from Palo Alto.

AN UNEXPECTED AMOUNT of gaiety Saturday evening at the football dance at the Club, considering the events of the afternoon. A very large turnout for the dance, including Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sweet entertaining for the Thomas Whites of Honolulu.

They were joined by the Fred Federighis, dance chairmen this year, who are doing a very commendable piece of work. Their guests were the Gil Callies.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Bennett with Dr. Bennett's sister and brother-in-law, the Robert E. Williams of Arcadia. Bob is a former U. S. C. man, but very charming in spite of it.

So nice to see Paige and Ambrose Macdonald.

Mrs. Perry Thomas clearly the belle of the ball in black faille cocktail dress and hat with provocative lace harlequin veil. They were with the F. M. Walkers. Mrs. Walker also stunning in black faille.

Peggy Bannister looking sweet in black velvet with embroidered collar and cuffs. Pardon me, Jack wore a grey suit.

Also glimpsed partaking in the terpsichorian delights were the R. F. Hopkins, the Walter Hendersons, the Jerry Barrs, the Beach Deans, the Earl Toomeys with guests Chet and Helen Soda talking Hawaii with the Sweets, the James Stones, the Al Scollards, Roy Fefleys, Gene Roots, George Goods, the Carl Ranks and many others.

Most fun as usual was at the popular no-host table, but as no one ever stayed put long enough I just can't tell you who was there.

Sunday Sermon On 'Revival Of Conviction'

"Revibal of Protestant Conviction" is the Reformation Sunday theme for the 11 a. m. Sunday service at Orinda Community Church.

"United aggressive action by believers in fundamental American principles, nurtured in the chadle of the Reformation, may become necessary to combat the gradual erosion of our democracy and prevent encroachment upon our most precious liberties," Rev. Fred Morrow announced he will say in part.

"Participation in such action should not be confined to Protestants alone, but should include all who hold positive convictions about freedom of discussion, the support of public education and the separation of sect and state."

Name Architects To Prepare Plans Of St. Stephen's

The architectural firm of Arnold and Francis Constable has been selected by Karl Morgan Block, Episcopal Bishop of California, to prepare plans for the new church facilities for St. Stephen's in Orinda.

Constable and his son have designed many outstanding church buildings throughout California. St. Dominic's Church in San Francisco is probably his best known work. The complete restoration of Mission San Rafael and Mission San Jose de Guadalupe for the Hearst Foundation was done recently under their direction.

Proposed master plans for St. Stephen's Church building are now being prepared by the architect, and the building committee has studied several sketches of layouts on the church property.

Members of the congregation will be given an opportunity to express preferences as to architecture and design before final decisions.

SERVICES FOR SUNDAY mark "The Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude." First meeting Adult Confirmation Class will be at 4 p. m. The Young Peoples Fellowship Hallowe'en party will be held at the home of Beth Pickton, 18 Sleepy Hollow Lane, at 7 p. m.

Attention is called to the opening of Confirmation Classes. The adults' class will meet for eight Sundays at 4 p. m. at the church. A class for young people, age 12 and up, will meet for eight Wednesdays at 4 p. m. at the church, starting next Wednesday.

The Young People's Fellowship meetings are now at 7 instead of 6, as previously.

ONE OF THE LARGEST crowds yet to attend a Women's Auxiliary meeting gathered at the home of Mrs. Robert Harrison yesterday to hear Mrs. William S. L. Sung talk on Chinese family life and culture.

The Permanent Tea Committee, Mesdames William B. Sheppard, Clinton DeWitt, Jr., George Goerl and Ernest Kahl, was assisted by Mesdames Wynn B. Dunshee, Thomas Reese and C. E. Davies. Mrs. George Day and Mrs. A. R. Snoble poured.

'Trick or Treat' In New Manner

The members of Girl Scout Troop 45, seventh grade of the Glorietta School, have discovered a new way to combine fun with service and at the same time celebrate Hallowe'en in the traditional "trick or treat" fashion.

This year the girls are asking their neighbors to give them hooks and eyes, tape measures, pins, needles, thread, darning cotton, scissors, buttons and thimbles, to be turned over to the American Friends Society for overseas, instead of just candy or cookies for themselves.

Mrs. William Houston, troop leader, says that the girls will cover the Glorietta, Moraga Highway and Moraga Del Rey districts on Hallowe'en. But if anyone else would like to make a contribution, she would be pleased to have them notify her at Orinda 8290.

Patricia Hannan Now Mrs. Telfer

Last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Patricia Hannan became the bride of Richard Warren Telfer at the home of her parents, the James Thomas Hannans of 20 Las Vegas Road in Orinda.

The gathering was limited to a small group of friends and relatives because Jim, the father of the bride, has been recuperating in the hospital following a very serious operation. He was able to be at home for the weekend and to give away the bride.

The Hannan family is one of the true pioneers of modern Contra Costa. They built the lovely home at the junction of Upper and Lower Happy Valley Roads now occupied by the Alfred Nipkows.

Jim was one of the organizers of the horse shows and Patsy one of the first participants. Pat's paternal great-grandfather came around the Horn to settle in Oakland and became one of the first merchants; her maternal grandparents are Mrs. Harry L. Kellogg and the last Harry L. Kellogg of Wisconsin. Pat spent her high school days at Head's, then college at Santa Rosa, where she met Dick.

Dick comes from San Jose. His mother is Mrs. Elizabeth Telfer.

Tommy Hannan, Pat's brother, served as usher and also played the recorded music for the services. Pat's selections were the Ave Maria, Mario Lanza singing "Because," and Mendelsohn's Wedding March.

Mrs. Thomas Tryon and daughter Nancy arranged the flowers and did a truly beautiful piece of work. They used white dahlias with magnolia leaves in silver containers.

Pat was gowned in white organdy and wore Mrs. Munson Everett's (Pat Manners) lovely veil. Maid of honor Mardi Slaven wore pale blue net. Both carried bouquets of spider chrysanthemums.

Julie Hannan, mother of the bride, was gowned in beige faille, and Mrs. Telfer wore teal blue crepe. Both wore corsages of orchids.

Serving as best man was Robert Hichborn of San Jose, a cousin of Dick's.

Among those attending were Mrs. Perry Brand, Julie's sister's daughter from Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook, Jim's aunt and uncle from Los Altos.

Following the reception, Pat and Dick left for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination. They will be at home in the apartment which they have furnished on College Avenue in Berkeley.

Brains, Brawn, Jeans Asked by Nursery School

An urgent request to dads from the Orinda Nursery School Association:

"Fathers, may we borrow your brains and brawn on the evening of November 7, in exchange for a good supper and a lot of fun?

"Then come to the Orinda Nursery School potluck supper at 6:30. (The date was once November 14 but has been changed.) Supper will be served in the Social Hall of the Orinda Community Church."

An added note to both dads and moms:

"Dads, wear your jeans. Mothers, you'd better wear yours, too. We'll have lost of fun, besides having a chance to get better acquainted with the parents of Junior's schoolmates."

Now on La Noria

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, with children Peter, Michael and Dickie, are now residents of their newly-completed home on La Noria. The Lewis' former home was on Grosvenor Place in Oakland.

How to make good telephone service even better....

Give your friends time to answer
How often have you had someone hang up just as you answered the telephone? It isn't always possible, you know, to get to the telephone the moment it rings—the folks you are calling may be out enjoying their garden, or busy in some distant part of the house. You'll reach them more often . . . and avoid the disappointment of an incompleted call if you give them a full minute to answer.
Faster Long Distance service is yours, if you give the operator the out-of-town telephone number, rather than just the name and address of the party you are calling. You'll not only save your time . . . but calling by number means better service for everyone, especially now when long distance lines are carrying so many urgent industrial and military calls.

Blood Donors To Know Real Meaning Of Thanksgiving – Make a Date Now

There'll be more than one pint of blood spilled today on the Korean battlefront.

But one pint of blood from you can mean the difference between life and death for one of our heroic warriors far from home.

The Thanksgiving season is approaching.

Show your thanks to the men in the Armed Forces in a tangible and important way. Give a pint of blood!

SIGN UP NOW for your contribution by telephoning the Mt. Diablo Chapter's American Red Cross headquarters at Walnut Creek 5817. The next dates are November 2 at the Danville Legion Hall and November 23 at the Pleasant Hill School.

Nineteen volunteers from the Mt. Diablo Chapter went to Camp Stoneman on October 16 to help staff the Mobile Unit from Stockton in drawing 360 pints of blood from the military — some to be flown directly to Korea as whole blood, the rest to be converted to plasma.

On November 6 the Mt. Diablo Chapter will be asked to send a volunteer crew of 19 once again. And this will continue every three or four weeks as long as necessary.

THESE NURSES, nurses aides, canteen workers and staff aides give the entire day — from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. — and the Chapter is grateful for their contribution to this important part of the Red Cross program.

Here are the women who made up the last crew:

Mesdames M. J. Lewis, E. B. Radford, C. B. Smith, F. E. Emery, N. C. Izett, Robert Barlick, W. H. Margerin, C. W. Murray, R. R. Delareuelle, K. C. Herrick.

H. F. Smith, Karl Paulding, Clarence Reed, T. H. Sorenson, A. F. Flary, E. J. Hatton, G. W. Myers, L. H. Luedemann and H. E. Eggerts.

Ladies! Look in Your Work Basket — Yarn Needed!

Have you some "odds and ends" in yarn?

They can prove extremely valuable to volunteers of the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. J. C. McGeehon, Sr., chairman of the Diablo Chapter's Production committee, announces she would be glad if people in the area would save "odds and ends" of yarn and bring them to the Chapter House at 1395 Ygnacio Avenue, Walnut Creek.

The yarns will be used to make afghans for service men in Bay Area hospitals. There is great demand for these afghans, but the limited budget of the Red Cross doesn't allow for the purchase of the necessary yarn.

Take a look in your work baskets and see if you can find some unused yarn. And while you're looking, see if you have any scraps of washable, colorfast cotton that can be used to make mule-type bedroom slippers.

The Red Cross Production committee and its helpers have recently sent out 64 pair of these mule-type slippers, 100 hot-water bottle covers and 13 layettes.

Teachers Observe Methods Used in Other Districts

Monday was a holiday for students throughout this area, but for the teachers it was Institute Day.

Acalanes and Las Lomas High School teachers and Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Orinda and Pleasant Hill grammar school teachers visited schools in other districts to observe first-hand the methods used there.

Classroom problems and techniques were studied, and ideas were exchanged with instructors at the schools which were visited.

Sixty Acalanes District high school teachers visited high schools at places strung out from Oroville through Sacramento Valley and from the North Bay and the Bay Area down to Monterey.

"Visiting day gives teachers, who are in the classroom every day, an opportunity to step out of their own classes to observe teachers at work and interchange ideas at a laboratory level," Acalanes District Superintendent Neil M. Parson points out.

"Acalanes District instructors generally agree that the visiting day is the most worthwhile single day they can spend, as far as teaching techniques are concerned.

3270 Persons Reported On List of Needy Aged

The number of people receiving aid as needy aged in Contra Costa County seems to be levelling off at around 3270, California Taxpayers Association says.

For August, there were 3266 people in the county on the aged aid rolls, compared with 3268 for July, 3220 for April and 3070 for January of this year.

Total aid paid the needy aged in the county is flattening out, too, the association says, comparing the $203,974 total payments for August, 1951, with the $204,988 for the month of July, $203,157 for April and $202,367 for January.

'Garden Insects' Film To Be Shown

"Garden Insects" will be the subject of a film shown by John Helyer at the meeting of the Mt. Diablo Men's Garden Club Monday, 6:30 p. m., at Planters Dock, Lafayette.

Helyer is a representative of the Vigoro Company, and the film is a new release of that firm. According to Lloyd F. Smith, club executive secretary, it has been enthusiastically received by garden clubs and nurserymen's meetings.

Lloyd this week reminded members that the First Annual Show of the Chrysanthemum Study Club of the East Bay will be held at the showrooms of the Elder Buick Company, 2059 Harrison Street, Oakland, Saturday, November 3 (2-10 p. m.), and Sunday, November 4 (10 a. m. - 9 p. m.).

"Amateur growers of Mums are cordially invited to show their favorite blooms," Smith said. "Those interested should communicate with Harry Lind, 2763 Madera, Oakland 19."

Safety Classes At East Campus

The Contra Costa Safety Council in cooperation with Contra Costa Junior College, is holding classes in traffic safety every Monday evening at 7:30 on the Junior College East Campus, 1301 Alhambra Avenue, Martinez.

This series of six classes, which started October 8, is so arranged that newcomers may appear at any time and still get the value of the context.

Red Cross Volunteers Aid Military With Blood Donations At Stoneman

Volunteers from Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross are assisting professional workers at Camp Stoneman to help the Army meet its 1450-pint blood quota for October.

Airmen, soldiers and civilian workers at Stoneman have already given 1094 pints this month in a stepped-up blood procurement program.

"The enthusiastic manner in which the Army and Red Cross have joined forces in this vital, life-saving program is an example of community cooperation and emphasizes the common aim of military and civilian personnel," Col. T. G. Jenkins, post commander, said.

Half of a 2,800,000-pint goal set last month will be met at military installations throughout America. The other half will be supplied by civilians outside the Armed Forces.

"The voluntary, unselfish donations are a clear demonstration that servicemen and civilian workers at Camp Stoneman are clearly aware of the urgent need for blood," Col. Francis J. Clune, post surgeon and head of the Stoneman blood drive, said.

Blood is drawn at Camp Stoneman every Tuesday by professional workers of the American Red Cross mobile unit from Stockton, aided by volunteers from the Walnue Creek headquarters of the Mt. Diablo Chapter as well as from Pittsburg and Martinez.

A CHILDREN'S GERMAN BALLET at the Festival of Nations Sunday at Oakland Auditorium will be directed by Mrs. Julia Hesse of Orinda, who will also participate in it. Mrs. Hesse, a member of the German War Brides Club of Oakland, is shown here with three of her youthful dancers — left to right, Kay Marie Both, Penny Chambers and Jo Anne Both.

Julia Hesse Directs, Also Takes Part In Festival of Nations Ballet Sunday

Numbered among the many war brides who are bringing talents from their home countries to add to the interest and color of the California Festival of Nations at the Oakland Auditorium Sunday is Mrs. Julia Hesse of Orinda.

The Hesse family, which includes a four - year - old son, Tommy, has established a home at 94 Brookwood Road within the past two months.

A MEMBER OF the German War Brides' Club of Oakland, Mrs. Hesse, who is an accomplished dancer, will direct a group of youngsters in a children's ballet, and will take part in the number herself.

Before meeting and marrying her husband, who was with the United States Army of Occupation in Germany, Mrs. Hesse was prima ballerina in the State Theater in Kassel, Germany, for seven years, and had also presented guest performances in other European cities.

COMING TO THIS country with her husband at the completion of his tour of European duty in the mid-'40's, Mrs. Hesse has made some use of her many years of dancing training by appearing in performances here, and by starting a weekly ballet class for children at the German Pioneer House in Oakland.

Mrs. Gerald Chambers, pageant chairman and president of the German War Brides' Club, is pianist at these dancing sessions.

BESIDES HER DANCING talents, Mrs. Hesse is an accomplished costume designer and seamstress. The costumes worn by her troupe at the Festival were planned by her and were made with the assistance of the other war brides in the club.

This and other nationality groups are preparing nightly for their parts in the huge pageant which will be staged both at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Sunday. Presented by the International Institute of Alameda County, the colorful Festival will be a benefit show for the Community Chest.

Over $17,000 Turned In So Far For Scout Drive

With a number of areas still to be heard from, the recent annual combined Diablo area Girl Scout-Boy Scout finance drive was described this week as apparently successful by Mrs. J. Wayland Barnette, general chairman.

Mrs. Barnette said that to date over $17,000 had been collected, as against a $15,700 grand total for last year.

"All returns are not in yet," she emphasized. "Returns from business districts in Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda are still not entered, and advanced gifts—the larger donations—from Lafayette and Orinda are likewise outstanding.

"Lafayette was late in getting started and some of the other areas haven't been "cleared' yet. Some $5000 has been turned in by Lafayette—and a goodly portion of Lafayette is still to be reported."

Mrs. Barnette thanked the many volunteer workers who were active in the campaign. Over-all goal was $35,000.

Explorer Program Conference Held

C. W. Bennett, national director of Explorer Service, Boy Scouts of America, visited with key leaders of the Exploring Program of the Mt. Diablo Council over a three day period beginning Monday.

A council-wide conference of all Explorer advisors, scoutmasters and commissioners was conducted at Camp Herms, El Cerrito, Tuesday night.

The Exploring Program is designed for boys 14 years of age and upward. Over 1,000 are currently enrolled in the program in the Mt. Diablo Council, which embraces all of Contra Costa County and the cities of Berkeley and Albany.

Family Adjustment Courses To Start At Adult School

"A course of special interest to every family in the area," the Prevention of Emotional Maladjustments in the Family, will be sponsored by the Acalanes Adult Education program starting Monday evening at Acalanes High School, George Houghton, Adult Education director, announced today.

According to Houghton, the course "will provide parents with information which will enable them to better understand themselves, their emotional reactions and their relationship to the family group—especially the children."

Taught by Mrs. Mabel Gifford, who has specialized many years in speech education and special education and who served for a time with the United States State Department, the course will attempt to supply specific techniques for the prevention of emotional maladjustments.

The course will outline how early childhood behavior patterns affect present attitudes and reactions, and how they can be changed through re-education.

Class meeting time is 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Eight meetings are scheduled.

Public Service Key Scout Goal

Among 1952 highlights worked out by the public relations committee of the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council, at the council's recent annual planning conference at Acalanes High School, are:

1.—Urging school systems and teachers in classrooms or assemblies to give recognition to individual scouts who have received scouting advancements.

2.—Urging unit leaders to have scouts appear in uniform before sponsoring institutions, reporting on scouting activities.

3.—Work closely with all civic groups, including chambers of commerce, in order to determine dates of local events and activities in which scouts may helpfully serve.

4.—Urging units to mobilize periodically on a district basis, as recommended in the Emergency Service Program of the national scout organization.

These May Help You Know Just How Wet You Are

If and when it rains this winter, Central Contra Costans will have an accurate check on the rainfall instead of vaguely wondering whether it's wading or swimming depth.

The Contra Costa Soil Concervation District is hopeful that rainfall data will trickle into its office to give the first accurate record of precipitation on an area basis that has been available.

Tom Vanasek of the Soil Conservation District has obtained 10 standard eight-inch rain gauges from the Weather Bureau which are to be placed in strategic locations with people who will be willing to serve as unofficial weather observers.

The gauges, slated for the Diablo area, will be distributed in Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, Pine Creek, Pacheco and other locales to potential "rain recorders" who first offer their services.

When the reports filter in, they will not only give the Conservation District a record of rainfall in various parts of the county, but will probably make the office a headquarters for various "Will I need an umbrella?" or "Should Junior wear his raincoat today?" calls.

Building Permit Setup Extended

All structures planned for unincorporated sections of the county, on parcels of land less than two and a half acres in size, now require building permits.

Announcement of the new regulation, which became effective yesterday, was made by County Building Inspector R. J. Kraintz.

"Building permits will be required for all structures within the unincorporated area of Contra Costa County located on parcels of land less than two and a half acres, as designated in Ordinance 638," Kraintz said.

"Effective date of the ordinance is October 25, 1951."

Warn Employers of New Withholding Tax Due Thursday

Employers are warned today to withhold income tax from wages paid on and after November 1 at the higher rate provided by the new 1951 Revenue Act.

The warning came from Charles F. Masarik, Jr., deputy collector in charge of Internal Revenue at San Francisco.

"Pamphlets containing the revised tables will be mailed to all employers on the Internal Revenue Bureau's list within the next few days," Masarik said.

"EMPLOYERS WHO do not receive the pamphlet within a few days may obtain copies at the Collector's office," he added.

"Employers are expected to make every reasonable effort to comply with the provisions respecting the new rates," Masarik warned.

"In view of the short time elapsing between the enactment of the law and the first payroll period affected, many employers may not be able to adjust to the new rates on the first pay day affected," he pointed out.

WHILE NO ADJUSTMENTS will be made in the audit of withholding returns in such cases, Masarik made it clear that this does not in any manner effect the responsibility of employees to meet their full tax liability as required by law when making their returns for 1951.

He also called attention to the fact that the new law relieves individuals from penalties for failure to comply with requirements relative to declarations of estimated tax on Form 1040-ES for the 1951 year if due to the increased rates in the new law.

"Revised estimates will not be required on account of the rate increase, although the higher tax for 1951 provided in the law will have to be paid when taxpayers file their income tax returns for the year," he said.

State GOP Meet To Hear Warren, Knowland, Nixon

Governor Earl Warren and Senators William F. Knowland and Richard M. Nixon are scheduled to speak at the next meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, State Chairman T. H. DeLap announced.

The meeting will be held in San Diego November 16 and 17.

DeLap also announced the beginning today of a "Victory Volunteers" campaign with a goal of recruiting 100,000 active precinct workers and increasing the number of registered Republicans by 1,000,000 voters throughout the state.

The "Victory Volunteers" campaign will be under the statewide direction of Robert S. Barkell, Berkeley, chairman of the State Committee's Organization Committee.

Orinda Filter Plant Takes On Big Extra Job

The large Orinda Filter Plant of the East Bay Municipal Utility District will be performing extra duty for the next half-year.

Areas which ordinarily receive water from the district's San Pablo Filter Plant will receive water from the Orinda Filter Plant during the San Pablo plant's shutdown for the improvement project there.

Announcement that construction has started on the $520,000 modernization project at the San Pablo plant was made by President Louis J. Breuner of the E.B.M.U.D. board. Breuner stated that the San Pablo plant will be closed for approximately six months so that the work can be completed.

San Pablo Filter plant, second largest of the five water purification facilities of E.B.M.U.D., normally filters approximately 25 million gallons of water daily.

Spencer Lehmann Conducts Foreign Chemists on Tour of Plants, Labs

Following a five-week tour of the chemical industries of the United States, Spencer Lehmann returned earlier this month to his home on Moraga Boulevard.

After an international meeting in New York, 270 chemists representing 40 nations were conducted on tours of industrial plants, university laboratories and government research projects across the country.

Lehmann was tour leader for one of the groups comprised of 45 young chemists who had gathered from 21 countries for the session. Their tour included visits to Pittsburgh, Purdue, St. Louis, Washington, D. C., and other cities.

Although the visiting chemists were impressed by American achievement, they thought that Americans were unaware of their good fortune in their high standard of living, Lehmann said. Wealth of equipment for work and the fact that even laborers had cars in this country were remarked on by the visitors, according to Lehmann.

The men were given a different perspective of the American way of life than that garnered in movies and by propaganda, through their meeting of Americans as individuals and through being entertained as guests in the homes of various cities visited.

Lehmann, who was sent to the meeting by Shell Development of Emeryville, reported the tour as "a real investment in democracy and one of the most effective means of combating propaganda." He judged the project worthwhile because it gave these men with the same basic interests and problems a true picture of the United States.

The visitors were given free fein to deviate from the planned tour at any point to visit places of special interest to themselves.

A valuable collection of technical books was among the gifts the visiting chemists took with them when they returned home, Lehman said.

Christian Science Sermon Told

"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, October 28, comprised of citations from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Two of the Bible citations will read:

Proverbs: "Keep thy heart with all diligence: for out of it are the issues of life" (4:23).

I Timothy: "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses" (6:12).

Correlative passages from Science and Health will include the following:

"When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. It will master either a desire to die or a dread of the grave, and thus destroy the great fear that besets mortal existence" (p. 426).

Noble To Leave For TB Post in Alameda County

Announcement of a loss to public health in Contra Costa County and a gain for Alameda County has been received, according to J. D. Ryan, president of the Contra Costa Public Health Association.

Merwin Noble, a director of the association, who has been health educator in the Contra Costa County Health Department since October, 1948, and with the Richmond Health Department for a year prior, has been appointed executive secretary of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association, effective November 1.

"We congratulate the Alameda County Association in securing Mr. Noble," said Ryan. "He has done an outstanding job in our county. We regret that opportunities for exercise of his proven ability could not have developed here to keep him with us. However, we recognize this as a promotion for him and we wish him all success in his new position."

Vets — See Hammond Before Complaining!

Before a veteran "takes his pen in hand" to complain to some governmental agency about delays in connection with his rights and benefits, he should try a visit or a telephone call to J. W. Hammond, veterans' service officer.

The reason cited by Hammond for this suggestion is that in most cases it will save the veteran valuable time, and in a few cases it may even save his entanglement in red tape.

Aim of this program, it was stated, is to stimulate the public to greater interest in their local governments.

Little troubles develop into big breakdowns, says the California State Automobile Association. Have your car inspected by expert mechanics regularly, and keep it lubricated properly.

Don J. V. Eleven Smacked 14 to 7 By Livermore Team

Acalanes Junior Varsity was upset by the Livermore Cowboys Thursday, October 18.

Livermore scored two touchdowns and converted twice while the best the Dons could do was hit pay dirt once and add the conversion point—14 to 7.

The Cowboys jumped to an early lead when they threw a pass on the opening play.

IT ALL CAME about when Jim Burns made a nice kickoff return only to fumble and have Livermore recover. On the first play Ron Freitas, Livermore's right half, took the ball on what appeared to be a reverse, faded and heaved to end Jerry Briggs deep downfield. He scampered untouched into the end zone 40 yards away.

The Dons came back and scored with Lon Schiepel going over on a fullback plunge and the conversion was good on the same play.

LIVERMORE wasted little time in hitting for seven more points to put the game on ice.

One of the game's highlights was a 64-yard punt by Acalanes' John Conley, who also did some nifty running from the left half spot.

The Dons' J. V. eleven was scheduled to tangle with John Swett yesterday at the Acalanes field in a 3:30 p. m. game.

They hit the road to play Antioch in a game on Thursday, November 1, at 3 p. m.

Chance To Better Tennis Technique

There is still time to sign up for the Carnation Company's Fall tennic clinic, according to Clovey LaCroix, Carnation's athletic director.

Hundreds of youngsters from six to 18 years of age have already signed up and are receiving instruction at 10 playgrounds in Contra Costa and Alameda Counties.

Instruction is free. The Carnation Company also furnishes racquets and balls free of charge.

Classes are held from 3.30 p. m. to 6 p. m. on a weekly schedule as follows:

MONDAY — Nicol Park, Richmond, and Garfield Playground, Berkeley.

TUESDAY — Bella Vista Playground, Oakland, and Memorial Park, Albany.

WEDNESDAY — Civic Center Playground, Walnut Creek, and San Ramon High School, Danville.

THURSDAY — Franklin Park, Alameda, and Estudillo Park, San Leandro.

FRIDAY — Linda Vista Playground, Piedmont, and Lincoln Park, Alameda.

Dons Meet Indians Today on Crockett Grid

The Acalanes Dons are scheduled to take to the gridiron again today when they travel to Crockett for their second league game of the 1951 season.

The game against John Swett will be the Dons' first in two weeks. Kickoff time is 3:15 p.m.

The Dons drew their second and last bye of the season last week, while Crockett's last outing found them on the short end of a 35-7 count, with Pittsburg's Pirates the winner.

In other league games the Acalanes eleven edged Albany 7-6, while the Crockett Indians staged a terrific second half rally only to lose to Diablo 20-19.

CROCKETT BOASTS a heavy line anchored by Vince Di Maggio, a 250-pound tackle, and Joel Heckman, a 215 tackle on the other side of the line.

The backfield has several speedsters, with Jerry Harrah heading the list.

The Swett eleven has had better than average success with the forward pass and is expected to fill the air with the pigskin should its ground game be stopped.

THE DONS HAVE BEEN busy the past two weeks keeping in physical condition and polishing their offensive and defensive maneuvers.

They suffered a letdown against Albany and a missed conversion on Albany's part provided the win margin.

CROCKETT IS STILL smarting from last year's 30-6 loss at the hands of the Dons and has been pointing for this year's game.

Prior to last year's loss to Acalanes, they were in the undefeated ranks and had high pennant hopes.

THE DONS' LINEUP has had several changes since their last game, with the newest addition to the ranks being Roger Linn, who will serve in the backfield at a left half post, as well as doing a stint at the left end position.

John Daniels has moved into left end, with Art Siler and Jerry Henderson battling it out for the starting spot at right end.

Ray Otto has moved to left guard, with Buzz Williams in the same spot on the other side of the line.

Hugh Harris, promising Junior, has been running as number 1 center all week, while Richard Ting and Bob Borghesani hold forth as tackles.

IN THE BACKFIELD Howard Andrews is even-steven with Ed Greub as a right half starter, while Linn and Al Culp are a toss-up at left half.

Dick Fey and Eric Murray are battling for their spots, with Bob Westlund and Ray Williamson furnishing top competition at the quarterback and fullback slots.

THE DONS RATE an edge in the John Swett game, but games are won on the field and not in the paper—ask Cal!

A busload of rooters and the up-and-coming band are set to accompany the Dons, to accord vocal and musical support.

In event that rain should cause a postponement, the game is reset automatically, as called for in league rules, to Monday.

Hardtop Champs Clash in Season's Finals Tonight

The curtain falls tonight on Bay Area hardtop auto racing with the 1951 State Hardtop Championships at the Contra Costa Speedway near Pacheco.

Four main events will highlight the crown verdict.

For the first time, three 25-lap features will be staged on the same program and will bring together 48 pilots of the state — the 24 highest in the 1951 point standings from both the Bay Cities and the California Stock Car Racing Association.

Speedway devotees are anticipating a rough and tumble duel between Cliff Roberts, San Francisco BCRA champ, and Dave Carter, Stockton CSCRA titlist.

Other topflight wheelsmen who will clash for the first time this season will be Keith Willis, Bill Maher, Bob Caswell, Lee Humphers, all from the BCRA, and Johnny Key, Mike Batanich, Johnny Smith and Herb Moore, CSCRA representatives.

The first cars will roar away at 8:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, contracts were signed today for the fourth annual Pacific Coast Indoor Auto Racing championships to open tomorrow night at the Oakland Exposition Building. Plans call for races every Saturday night through November and the last Sunday afternoon in November.

Qualifying test runs will start at 7:30 p.m. and the trophy dash at 8:30 p.m.

Athletic Fields at Las Lomas Started; Dons Resume Play after 2-Week Layoff

By ERWIN MATTSON

BIDS HAVE BEEN LET and work is under way on athletic fields for the new Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek.

The work to be done at this time consists of grading the various areas and allowing the winter rains to settle the ground prior to future development.

Athletic competition will start sprouting in a limited way with spring sports, and basketball will get under way with completion of the gymnasium in the very near future.

THE ACALANES DONS return to the gridiron today after a two-week layoff. They play John Swett at Crockett at 3:15 p. m.

From here on out it's a game a week until the final game with Alhambra November 21.

It remains to be seen how well the Dons can come back after one game in the past three weeks.

Workouts the past week have been spirited, and the Dons appear ready mentally to be back in the groove but only game time will tell how really ready they are.

THE DONS WERE as flat as the proverbial pancake their last time out against Albany and squeaked by with a 7-6 margin.

It so happens that the conversion was via the air lanes, with Quarterback Dick Fey doing the tossing.

The Dons to date have failed to attempt to kick any conversion points via the place-kick method, and some have asked, "How come?"

Place-kicking requires time and constant drill. Such things can be developed when one has spring practice and experienced players.

In high school in Contra Costa County spring practice is taboo, and the time available has to be budgeted during the regular season.

So practice is on the basis of things of greatest importance first. As a result, play assignments and basic fundamentals eat up most of the time.

The squad is reaching the point now where time can be devoted to place-kicking and the drills will become a part of the weekly practice schedule.

THOSE WHO WANTED to see the Golden Bears toppled had their day last Saturday, when the Trojans of Southern California turned the trick.

The Trojans were a well-drilled club that could well turn out to be the nation's top eleven. Big, rugged, fast and versatile, they appear capable of taking care of themselves on any given Saturday afternoon.

Those who saw the game agree that the Southland lads were a bit on the questionable side when it came to certain plays of the game.

U. S. C. has had similar troubles in the past. The unfortunate part is that they are capable of winning without resorting to questionable tactics.

The fact remains that the Bears were beaten, and the Monday morning quarterbacks have had a field day with their usual second guessing.

The Bears have a record of 38 wins as against two losses in regular season play, and that's a better percentage than anyone else can post.

THE "CURSE" WAS practically put on the Bears when Life Magazine decided to feature them and spent a week photographing them.

Frank Leahy of Notre Dame published a book last year on "winning football" and proceeded to have his poorest season. This year he wrote a good book on defensive football, and the week it came out S. M. U. defeated him handily.

Joe DiMaggio not long ago wrote a book on "How To Hit" and proceeded to have his poorest year with the bat.

Cal lost to the better eleven last Saturday. U. S. C. appears Rose Bowl bound, and may they whip whoever the Midwest sends!

P. S. The Bears will bounce back and win the rest of the way!

J. H. Schroeder Plans Athletics At Glen Taylor

Parents with youngsters who had taken part in the recreation school in Berkeley this summer called at Glen Taylor School here recently to visit with the new director, Julius H. Schroeder, who had supervised the popular Berkeley program.

Schroeder, University of California hockey and soccer coach for many years, was formerly manager of the Berkeley ice rink. His past experience in inaugurating recreation programs will be utilized in planning athletic and gymnasium features at Glen Taylor.

East Bay visitors expressed their interest in development of the director's program at the open-house gathering, staying through the day for swimming and a barbecue.

Schoeder's plans include preparing an athletic field and converting a barn on the property into a gymnasium, with the goal of "opening them up for the youngsters of the neighborhood so they can benefit by it, too."

Eric MacDonald is assisting in the program underway at Glen Taylor School, and Mrs. Gretchen Ambrose will add her talents as swimming instructor for the children.

Among the 150 guests present at the visiting day affair were Mr. and Mrs. James Lockie-Brown Jr. and son James of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. John Warner who were accompanied by their two sons, Jimmy and John and John Boettiger, grandson of the late President Roosevelt; Mrs. Dorothy Marshall and son Peter of Orinda; Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Darnall and son and daughter of Berkeley; Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Carson and son of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Haskell and son of Orinda; Mr. and Mrs. George Rennecker and son and daughter of Concord.

Hallowe'en Party at Fairyland Wednes.

An invitation is extended to all youngsters who will visit Children's Fairyland in Lakeside Park, Oakland, Wednesday afternoon to come in costume and join in the Hallowe'en fun.

The Hallowe'en party will start at 2:30 p.m. Prizes will be given for the funniest costume, the prettiest and the most original.

If you notice the Seniors going around with a dreamy look in their eyes — it's only college. Dreams of dances, fraternity and sorority parties and many other things are uppermost in most people's minds.

Many students have started filling out entrance blanks and gathering information on scholarships and requirements.

Then there's the duller side — money, subject A exams, entrance exams, Senior Math test, etc. Most seniors will agree when I say it's well worth the trouble, though.

OUR STAR RIVAL has disclosed that they will soon blow the lid off the place with their first dance. The Student Council at Las Lomas High School will sponsor a dance November 2. By the way, they have chosen their colors — maroon and gold!

Next Tuesday the first talent show will be held. Many more are being planned during the course of the year.

Have you ever heard of a newspaper losing a whole page? Well — it happened to the Acalanes Blueprint! There were a few mad editors until the page was reconstructed!

Monday was a school holiday for Acalanes students. You could find our kids just about anywhere, and as for the teachers — well, they had to go to other schools to find out how to make it a little tougher for us (if that's possible)!

THE AKLAN GOES on sale soon. — only this year it will cost $3 instead of $2.50.

Reason given is the higher cost of printing and makeup. In my mind, it's well worth $3!

ENOUGH OF THIS chatter — if you can stand any more, look for the same thing next week!

Modern Fertilizer Better for Plants Than Old-Fashioned Refuse from Stable

By BERT WRIGHT

THE TIME WAS, and it isn't so very long ago at that, when any thought of giving food to the growing plants suggested primarily animal manure.

Oh yes, there were agricultural fertilizers handled in bulk but they were for the farmers; little were they thought of or used in home gardens. Animal manures in the form of waste and refuse from the cow shed or from the stable were generally sought and used.

There was a kind of distinction in the mind of the multitude. Fertilizer meant manufactured chemical preparations made to a formula and manures meant organic animal products of uncertain composition.

OUR PRESENT-DAY habits of life are making it more difficult each succeeding year for the average home gardener to get the organic animal manures even if he wants them.

The definite feeding of plants with a full understanding of what their needs are and applying the necessary ingredients is a very recent step in plant cultivation; and even now among the multitude, the basic facts are not very well understood. As a matter of plain fact, however, it is unnecessary for people to have an intimate knowledge of plant food compositions and reactions.

SO FAR AS ACTUAL plant food value is concerned, the modern carefully manufactured articles, merchandised under the general term of "modern plant foods," are so definitely superior to the old-fashioned stable refuse that they can hardly be considered as parallels.

The real value of the stable manures came not in their actual plant nutrient components but in the fact that they supplied humus to the soil, and humus improved the physical condition of sandy soils by making it more retentive in moisture and, on the other hand, it ameliorated heavy soils by opening them up and letting air and water pass through.

The actual plant food value was very small indeed.

THE OLD-FASHIONED plant grower used a miscellaneous group of crude waste materials, and they were justified on the principle that anything is better than nothing, perhaps; but the actual amount of plant food in them was sometimes negligible and often when it was present it took ages to become really available, as decomposition of the crude materials had to be complete before the plant could get the value — such as it was.

The fact that these things were low in value made their rather indiscriminate use quite safe. On the other hand, the modern plant foods contain a relatively large amount of actual available nutrients.

These preparations have been evolved through experiment, trial and careful laboratory studies, until the high-grade materials that are now available offer the cultivator not only available plant foods, but foods in a form that can be relied upon to yield nutrients over a fairly extended period, little by little, as the breaking down of the component materials occurs.

BUT MODERN PLANT foods are scientifically balanced complete nutrients prepared after considerable research work has been done, and though we may be still learning more things about plants' care and how to feed them, they represent in available form the consummation of the best knowledge and understanding of the day — balanced prepared materials designed to meet a definite need, and not merely making casual use of refuse and by-products of something entirely different.

The meal you get prepared for you is better for you than the scraps from a meal prepared for somebody else.

"One advertisement on imported rugs sold out all but one by Friday evening, after the ad appeared on Thursday. The second recent ad on general merchandise brought such terrific results that all we had left were a few odds and ends.

"I wish to thank the Contra Costa Shopping News and Suns for doing a wonderful job for us."

Diamond K Sez...

Since speaking last week about waterproofing walls, we have had many questions on ways and means of waterproofing cement or basalite walls, by the use of Embecco. The following are complete directions from the Matler Builders Co. of Cleveland, Ohio. This process is effective for use on concrete, brick, tile, block or stone.

The first step is to clean the wall thoroughly. Use a wire brush or a stiff bristle brush. Use a good cleansing agent such as trisadium phosphate. After the wall has been cleaned and is saturated with water, take a mixture of Embecco to 3 parts of water and scrub this into the pores of the masonry in the walls.

Then dampen it every few hours to speed oxidation. When oxidation is completed and th ewall has rusted to a reddish brown color, wet the wall down and apply a mixture of 1 part of Embecco plus 1 part of fine sand to 3 parts of portland cement. This should be mixed to the consistency of calcamine and can be painted right on.

This method will water proof practically all walls. However, if you have water seeping under pressure or an abnormal problem, simply apply another coat of Embecco and water before the finish coat.

Of course, if yours is just a problem of sealing a small area, or place where the Embecco process is impractible, Diamond K also carries Thompson Water Seal, which is a clear, colorless liquid.

Diamond K is always happy to offer suggestions on your house problems.
